

A photograph showing a vast field of red poppies. In the middle ground, a person is crouching down, holding a camera, seemingly taking a picture. In the foreground, a small black marker or stake is visible in the poppy field. The field extends to the horizon under a clear sky.